About Radio Bath CIO

Radio Bath CIO was co-founded by Steve Fountain, Simon McNeill-Ritchie and Loraine Morgan-Brinkhurst MBE in November 2019, and launched one year later. A registered charity (no. 1193978) operating 24/7 under a commercial Digital Audio Broadcasting (DAB) licence and online. Radio Bath CIO is a highly innovative model seeking to restore Independent Local Radio to our towns and cities on a sustainable basis.

Specifically, Radio Bath CIO provides local news and other information of benefit to the community, and interviews over 1,000 guests each year. We also bring the community together through our own events, as well as the media partner for the Bath Half marathon, Peasedown Party in the Park, the Rotary Club's fireworks display, and many other events.

Radio Bath CIO is now seeking to create a Community Media Hub to provide opportunities for people of all ages to gain confidence in their digital media skills, explore their creativity and improve their educational and employability prospects.

What you'll do

- You can choose to help with any one of the areas listed below or get involved in multiple aspects, whatever suits you best.
- Capture high-quality video and photographic content at events, broadcasts and special activities.
- Record behind-the-scenes footage that highlights the energy and personality of Radio Bath.

- Work with the communications team to produce visuals for our website, social media and promotional materials.
- Assist in organising, shooting and editing visual content for ongoing use.
- Help ensure our visual output reflects Radio Bath's values, community focus and creative spirit.

What we're looking for

- Individuals with an interest in photography, videography and/or visual storytelling.
- Experience with cameras, video equipment or editing software (basic or advanced).
- Creative, observant people with a good eye for composition and capturing authentic moments.
- Reliable team players who can attend events and work collaboratively with staff and volunteers.
- Self-motivated individuals who can take initiative and bring creative ideas to visual projects.

What you'll gain

- Real-world experience photographing and filming live events, community activities and broadcasts.
- Opportunities to build your creative portfolio with high-quality visual content.
- Practical skills in media production, editing and digital storytelling.
- A supportive environment to grow your confidence and technical abilities.
- The chance to help shape the visual identity of Radio Bath across all platforms.
